

PRIVACY STATEMENT

Please read this before you contact me.

When you contact me, I will store your contact details carefully in order to respond to your enquiry.
You may ask me to delete your information at any time.

Please be aware that emails and texts are not private unless the information you send is passworded or encrypted.

There is no need to include personal details about your life or your difficulties when you first contact me.

I work to the standards of ethics and practice of UKCP (add link) and NGP (add link) and I keep personal data in accordance with current data protection legislation (add ico link).

This website is run by Yell Business and you can see their privacy policy here.